

Autoclave & Specimen Bags

Autoclave Bags

- Used to collect, pack, compile, & dispose of infectious & harmful waste
- Meets all specifications for autoclaving per USP <1211>
- Flat or gusset bag – 1.5-6 mil gauge thickness
- Impact resistance of 165 grams per ASTM D1709
- Tearing resistance of 480 grams in both MD and TD per ASTM 1922
- Proprietary inspection process for zero failures in the field
- Red opaque color to meet biohazard classification requirements
- Available with or without temperature indicator ink that changes color when conditions for autoclaving have been met

As a leader in the medical packaging sector, Fruth Custom Packaging provides American-made, FDA & ISO compliant solutions for a variety of applications in healthcare facilities, clinical laboratories, and pharmacies.

Specimen Bags

Our custom bags are used to store and transport samples, organs, and tissues for medical research, organ transplants, and patient analysis.

- 1-5 mil thickness
- Short & long runs
- Wide range of sizes available in clear or colored film
- Available with zip closure, reclosable adhesive or permanent
- Tamper proof adhesive
- Meets all federal regulations and OSHA requirements

